GREATER KRUGER - LIMPOPO

PHALABORWA CAMP

The Kruger National Park is one of South Africa's premier tourist destinations, attracting tens of thousands of people each year. Being the biggest nature reserve in South Africa (spanning a total of 4.9 million acres), it is the most popular. Although hunting is not allowed in the Kruger National Park, we are permitted to hunt in the surrounding areas, to include adjoining private nature reserves. The camp is located less than an hour's drive from a small town called Hoedspruit. The lodge itself is nestled in a 7,400 Acre wilderness, with access to an additional 41,000 Acres of huntable land. Hunting is done mostly by spot and stalk; however, blinds and pop-up blinds are available. In addition to some of South Africa's finest hunting areas, and given that the region attracts so many tourists, there are many activities and day tours to choose from. This is an ideal location for families, giving all ages the opportunity of fun and adventure. The hunting area also has great night-time hunting opportunities for nocturnal species, such as Spotted Hyena, Bushpig, Honey Badger and Civet cat.
